What Is DiSC® ?

- DiSC® from Inscape Publishing is the original, most validated, scientifically researched learning instrument used in business. More than 40 million people world wide have used DiSC in building teams, developing leadership, enhancing interpersonal relationships and improving performance and productivity.

The DiSC system has evolved over many years since the American psychologist, Dr. William Marston, presented the theory first time in 1928. The DiSC system identifies four different styles of behaviour:

*D – Dominance
i – Influence
S – Stability
C – Conscientiousness*

The four styles are shown in different proportions by different people.

Profiles such as DiSC® Classic measure a person's tendency to use each of the styles.

- DiSC enables us to understand our own style and how others may react to it. DiSC helps us understand the behaviours of other people and to appreciate the diversity in a team. DiSC offers a non-judgmental language for discussing behavioral differences.
- Using simple observation, we can learn to identify the styles of other people and to adapt our communication with them accordingly. These skills help us build strong and productive relations, while avoiding misunderstanding and conflict.
- To develop these skills, people need someone to train them. You can be the trainer who brings all these new insights and skills to your clients. Inscape Publishing has developed an extensive range of learning programmes, tools and professional materials: The Everything DiSC® Facilitation System. The certification course will put all these materials in your hands, free to use from Day One!

Some of the questions DiSC can help answer:

- What are my strengths, and what are my limitations?
- How do I relate to people and my environment?
- What are my strategies for creating positive relationships?
- How can I increase effectiveness in others and myself?
- How do I make decisions, manage time, solve problems or handle stress?
- What is my natural approach to selling?
- How do I open the call, ask questions, present my ideas or products?
- How do I handle objections, gain commitment and service my clients?
- How do I behave as a manager?
- What are my strategies for managing others?
- How do I direct, delegate, motivate and solve problems?
- What motivates me?
- What de-motivates me?
- What type of environment do I prefer?
- What things do I tend to avoid doing?
- What's my response to conflict?

What Everything DiSC® offers trainers:

Trainers are different and have different needs. We are pretty sure, however, that every trainer will appreciate these points:

For everyone who does practical training:

- A fast, efficient way to design courses and adapt them to an audience
- A rich toolbox of building blocks that helps create new solutions for your clients
- Valid and reliable tools that give the predicted results – again and again
- Easy to use in international settings (more than 20 languages supported)

For larger projects or larger training companies:

- Helps to keep a common standard for courses that are repeated regularly
- Helps to keep a common standard when several trainers teach the same course
- A way to build a standardized programme for training new trainers
- Certainty in the effect of training solutions

For the trainer personally:

- DiSC Learning is very popular with all audiences – and the trainer gets the credit!
- A group that has had DiSC Learning is much easier to work with afterwards
- When your clients learn DiSC from you, you tie a special bond with them
- Your DiSC knowledge will be of benefit to you in your professional and private life

Courses in the Everything DiSC® Facilitation System:

The EDFS includes a number of fully scripted workshops in various applications and of different lengths – all ready to use. You can build and blend the DiSC programmes into your own programmes and use them for your needs and objectives. Some of the pre-designed sessions for you include:

Participant's and Facilitator's View of EDFS – try both!

Naturally, in the certification course, we will use the EDFS materials to teach you! This way, you will experience how the materials work from the participants' point of view.

You will also get to try using the materials in example trainings. This way, you also get the facilitator's experience.

- This gives you a personal certainty about the quality you will offer to your clients.

You are in control of the picture you will paint for your audience.
For each programme, EDFS gives you the following options:

Facilitator's step-by-step manual (150-200 pages)

Run PowerPoint slide show with integrated video

Edit and customize the slide show as you like!

Handouts for participants (25-50 pages)- edit and customize as you like!

Everything DiSC® Insight Modules:

Everything DiSC® is built around a number of self-contained modules that can be put together in various ways, depending on the topic and the audience. Since each module delivers a specific insight, they have been labelled "Insight Modules."

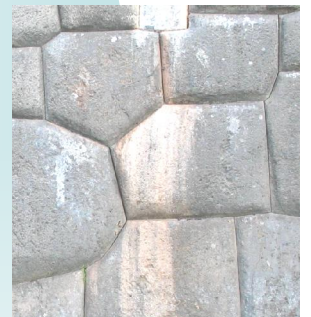

Modules include:

- Discover Four Styles of Behaviour and Explore the General Preferences of Your Style
- Learn about Your Strengths and What Happens if they are overused
- Learn about Your Behaviour When you are in Conflict with Others
- Learn How to Recognise the Styles of Other People
- Understand How Others Interpret Your Behaviour
- Learn How to Adapt Your Communication to Different Styles
- Understand What Motivates You at work
- Learn How to Address Goals and Fears to Gain Commitment
- Learn to Adapt your Management Approach Based on Willingness and Ability
- Learn to Read and Respond to Your Customer's Style
- Closing and Action Plan

Many ways to use the modules

Designing your course around the Insight Modules allows you to blend in your own materials and activities – as much or as little as you like.

Having these simple building blocks at your disposal all the time allows you to concentrate more on your audience. In the certification course you will learn how to use the system's flexibility.

Everything DiSC® Training DVD:

The Everything DiSC® DVD is a video companion to the Everything DiSC® Facilitation System. The Insight Modules in the system use major portions of this video. You may also use the video as a stand-alone to build into existing/new training of your own.

The DVD is menu-based. It offers 70 minutes of training material, organised with multiple viewing options for each of four sections:

- Pure Styles
- The Meeting
- Effective Communication
- Natural Styles

The DVD has subtitles in more than 20 languages.

Using the Everything DiSC® Facilitation System in your training:

The Everything DiSC® System guides you in facilitating the insights that DiSC brings to your participants, individually and interpersonally. However, EDFS does not limit you to its materials and course programmes. No-one demands you to follow the pre-prepared courses step by step. The only demand is that participants in the course have filled in a DiSC® Classic 1.0 or 2.0 profile prior to the course.

You have full freedom to mix EDFS resources with your own ideas, practices, materials in any way you like. The EDFS materials always work and bring success with any audience. This allows you to concentrate on developing other aspects of your courses.
